

Purchasing Archery Equipment

Pioneer Archers have a number of contacts within the sport who can supply all your archery equipment, please consult our club officials for more information.

WARNING: A bow and arrow is considered to be a "Controlled Weapon" under the Weapons Act 1999 (WA), therefore you must have a lawful reason to be in possession of such equipment. Provided the equipment is being used in a lawful manner, being a member of an Archery Club may be considered to be a lawful reason.

There are lots of different options available in the type of bows, the arrows and sights. These packages provide a starting point to pursuing your goals in the sport of Archery. If you would prefer to use a compound bow then please talk to our club officials.

Note: Hunting bows can be used for target shooting, however they are designed for hunting and therefore they offer very limited options for achieving good results for recreational or competitive target shooting.

Shopping via the Internet:

Whilst internet shopping for equipment offers some great deals, you need to know what you are purchasing and whether the equipment will allow you to progress through the sport and achieve your goals.

Buyers beware, most archery equipment purchased over the internet does not come set up so you can start shooting. You need a basic understanding of how arrows have to be matched to the bows and how all the equipment is matched to the archer. Then how the bow has to be set up so that it can produce the results you are looking for.

Long gone are the days of nipping out the back cutting down a sapling, plucking your local goose for a few feathers, twisting a few strands of horse hair together and fashioning a few arrows out of sticks. Then walking out the back and being able to shot an arrow into the one already in the target. That only happens in the movies, with some really good special effects.

Have fun with your archery and we will see you on the range.
